Mr. Allen,

Hi. I know it's been a very long time and you might not even remember me, but I was in your history class in seventh grade six years ago. We were learning about the Black Plague today in my history class here at college and it made me think of you. I just want to let you know that I truly enjoyed your class and because of you, I want to be a teacher. I can only dream of creating the dynamic and respect that you always held in your classroom. Granted, I'm only a freshman and still have much to learn. I hope that your year is going well and that you're able to reach out to your students the same way you did with me. You're a truly fantastic teacher. Don't let anyone tell you differently.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Miller
